

this shows how the board and insulation is turned off.

i did this to all the walls, but in 3d only the wall that was drawn directly from the design extra add-on is showing the properties correctly.

the 3d should only show the profiles... but instead i get the "original" wall overlapping it...

